

Terms and Conditions

1. Scope of Application:

- These Terms and Conditions govern the use of the M&A Tech Group website and the procurement of goods or services.
- Services provided by M&A Tech Group are exclusively subject to these Terms and Conditions.
- Any conflicting terms and conditions proposed by the customer are expressly rejected.

2. Protection of Information:

- We do not employ vulnerability scanning as per PCI standards.
- All credit card transactions are handled by an external PCI-compliant payment gateway.
- No Malware Scanning is conducted.
- Personal information is securely stored behind limited-access networks.
- Sensitive/credit information is encrypted using Secure Socket Layer (SSL) technology.
- Rigorous security measures are implemented during order placement to ensure the safety of personal information.
- Transactions are processed through a secure gateway provider, avoiding storage or processing on M&A Tech Group servers.

3. Proprietary Rights:

- Content on the M&A Tech Group website is protected by national and international copyright, trademark, patent, and other proprietary rights or laws.
- Users agree not to infringe on these proprietary rights.
- Prohibited actions include modifying, distributing, copying, reproducing, or creating derivative works based on the content.
- M&A Tech Group's trademarks, trade names, service marks, logos, collectively referred to as "M&A Tech Group Marks," are legally protected.
- Users may not display or use the M&A Tech Group Marks without the express prior written consent of M&A Tech Group.

4. Privacy Policy:

- Users are advised to carefully read our privacy policy to understand how Personally Identifiable Information is collected, used, protected, or otherwise handled in accordance with UK laws and regulations.

5. Termination:

- Either party may terminate these Terms and Conditions with a 10-day prior written notice (email is sufficient).
- M&A Tech Group reserves the right to terminate or suspend these terms at any time if the user breaches any provisions.

6. Jurisdiction:

- These Terms and Conditions, along with legal relationships established herein, are governed solely and exclusively by the laws of the United Kingdom.

7. Final Provisions:

- In the event that any provision of these Terms and Conditions becomes invalid or incomplete, the remaining provisions' validity shall remain unaffected.
- Any invalid provision or gap in these Terms and Conditions shall be replaced by a valid, effective, and enforceable provision that aligns with the economic intent and purpose of the invalid or incomplete provision, in accordance with UK laws.
